

FuelMaker Corporation is proud to introduce “Phill” – the first economical and compact residential Home Refueling Appliance for Natural Gas Vehicles!

The introduction of this exciting product is driving the need to expand our existing installer network to support the anticipated high demand for Phill.

Phill installations require:

- Electrical service supply and connection
- Natural Gas service supply and connection
- General construction expertise

If your organization can provide the above and carries liability insurance we are interested in hearing from you:

Technical training and ongoing product support are provided free of charge and there is no financial obligation involved.

Companies interested in being Phill installers will be invited to attend a technical training session to be delivered by FuelMaker staff in their area in the near future. Companies joining our installer network will be listed in our database as a Qualified Phill Installer.

If you are interested in joining our network of installers please contact me at the numbers below.

Sincerely,

Peter Bolton
